

Case Study

Lord Wandsworth College

“ ESG Pro made what could have been a complex reporting process remarkably straightforward. Their expertise gave us absolute confidence that our GHG report met every compliance requirement. ”

— Lidia Pocock, Lord Wandsworth College

GHG Reporting

Industry: Education

The Client

Lord Wandsworth College is an independent boarding and day school set within 1,200 acres of Hampshire countryside. The College is committed to providing a balanced education that blends academic excellence with strong environmental and social values. Sustainability forms part of its operational and teaching ethos, with ongoing efforts to manage resources responsibly and lead by example for pupils and the wider community.

The Challenge

As a registered educational institution, Lord Wandsworth College is legally required to report its greenhouse gas emissions and energy use annually. The College sought expert assistance to ensure compliance with UK carbon reporting standards and to improve the accuracy of its data collection process. Internal resources were limited, and previous reporting exercises had been time-consuming, prompting the need for an efficient, professional partner to manage reporting requirements with precision.

The Solution

ESG Pro supported Lord Wandsworth College in completing its fourth consecutive year of statutory GHG reporting. The collaboration involved reviewing all energy and fuel data, validating sources, and aligning the report with the Streamlined Energy and Carbon Reporting (SECR) framework. The team provided ongoing technical guidance, ensuring that Lidia Pocock and her colleagues had full visibility over methodology and outcomes. The reporting process was managed smoothly, giving the College confidence in both accuracy and compliance.

The Result

Lord Wandsworth College received a verified, compliant GHG report that met all statutory deadlines. The streamlined process saved administrative time while improving data quality and transparency. ESG Pro's continued support has allowed the College to maintain consistency across reporting years and focus on long-term sustainability planning within its educational environment.
